PPMI Serum Processing

Clinical Sites
- Serum samples collected and frozen at -80°C
- Serum samples shipped on dry ice
- Frozen serum samples received at repository
- Visual inspection of samples, tube label matches submission form
- Samples missing, damaged or mislabeled
  - Issue resolved
  - Yes
- Sample info entered into database
- Samples stored at -80°C
  - One tube held in processing rack for batch processing
  - One tube divided into 200µL aliquots and one 100µL

Repository Coordinator
- Clinical Sites notified of problems
  - Yes
- Samples stored at -80°C
- Samples shipped on dry ice
- Frozen serum samples received at repository
- Sample info entered into database
- Samples stored at -80°C
- QNT hemoglobin test performed
- Results reported to repository and entered into database

Repositories
- Samples distributed upon PPMI approval to researcher

Modified on March 9, 2015